Mission

The mission is to design a common and inclusive approach that makes possible the practice of sport both for children "with disabilities" and for the so-called "able-bodied" children.

PLAYINC is also a network composed of grassroots sports organizations that share a common methodology in order to provide inclusive sports activities.

We believe that managing complex needs requires a constant development of skills and knowledge by coaches and volunteers.

We propose guidelines on how to adapt and manage sports aimed at promoting social inclusion between children with motor and cognitive disabilities and able-bodied children up to 13 years.

Who we are

PLAYINC: Let's all children PLAY INclusion is a project co-financed by the ERASMUS + Sport Program, coordinated by the sports association Around Sport (Italy) in collaboration with AiCS - Associazione Italiana Cultura e Sport (Italy), with a partnership of 2 other sport organizations, UCEC (Spain) and HLA (Croatia), and the International Workers and Amateurs in Sports Confederation CSIT (Austria)

The Platform

www.playinc.eu

What is the PLAYINC project's web platform?

A showcase that collects all PLAYINC products: inclusive sport activities; guidelines useful for adapting disciplines to the needs of families and coaches; a video tutorial.

An access point to the knowledge of inclusive sports disciplines and to a new way of working dedicated to coaches and families.

A virtual place that can promote the creation of a network through practical, real, professional information. In one word, PLAYINC.

PLAYINC Sport Activities

The PLAYINC project has developed 16 different inclusive sports activities in order to promote the social inclusion of children with disabilities together with "able-bodied" children under the age of 13.

All these activities share the same approach defined by the coaches and managers who participated in the project.

The activities were conceived and designed with the aim of addressing the needs of coaches and families, which were directly analyzed through questionnaires.

From the analysis of the needs it was possible to build common guidelines: PLAYINC Key Aspects.
